ABSTRACT

This summary of Nebraska Library statistics for the 1994-1995 fiscal year is a compilation of data reported by 234 of the 256 public libraries in the state. The major urban libraries of Omaha and Lincoln serve 47% of the state population, while 75% of libraries in the state serve populations under 2,500. Even with limited resources, Nebraska libraries continue to meet the needs of their public. There has been a marked increase in automation in libraries. Internet access increased over 407% from 14 libraries having access in 1993-94 to 71 libraries having access in 1994-95. Statistics in this report include: general library information: income; operating expenditures and library materials; circulation and output measures; and summary of library statistics by population served. Graphs show: (1) accredited libraries by population served; (2) accredited libraries by system; (3) population served; (4) number of reporting libraries; (5) average per capita by population; (6) total local tax funds; (7) total income; (8) library staff; (9) operating and capital expenditures; (10) materials added to the collection; (11) total operating expenditures by system; (12) total operating expenditures by population served; (13) interlibrary loans; (14) circulation; (15) Internet access; and (16) library materials owned. Indices are provided of libraries by city/village and libraries by population served. (Author/SWC)

STATE OF NEBRASKA
1994-1995 PUBLIC LIBRARY PROFILE

INTRODUCTION

This summary of Nebraska Library statistics for the 1994-1995 fiscal year is a compilation of data reported by 234 of the 256 public libraries in the State. 166 of the reporting libraries have been approved for accreditation and are eligible for state aid and Federal LSCA funding.

The following is a snapshot of library service in Nebraska during this fiscal reporting year provided by 234 libraries which includes the major urban libraries of Omaha and Lincoln which account for 47% of the state population:

- 1,146,397 persons served
- 6,098 hours opened to the public
- 1,149 employees or 648 FTE (full-time equivalents)
- $26,875,350 income
    - $314,158 state funds
    - $186,661 federal funds
- $18.92 local per capita
    - $0.27 state per capita
    - $0.16 federal per capita
- 6,146,900 items in collections; 455,052 new items added
- 10,011,376 items circulated
- 864,448 reference questions

In comparison, however, of the 234 Nebraska public libraries, 170 or 75% of libraries in the state have populations under 2500. A look at the average of these 170 facilities gives a perspective of the state of libraries in Nebraska:

- 168,710 total population served or 992.4 per library
- 18 hours opened to the public per week
- 2.04 members on staff or .5 FTE (full-time equivalents)
- $15,735 total income
- $14.81 local per capita
    - $0.41 state per capita
    - $0.06 federal per capita
- 9,362 items in the collection; 600 new items added
- 7,792 items circulated
- 863 reference questions

The remaining 25% of the libraries in Nebraska serve populations over 2,500. 26 libraries serve populations of 2,500-4,999; 22 libraries serve populations of 5,000-9,999; 14 libraries serve populations of 10,000-49,999 and 2 libraries serve populations over 50,000.

Even with limited resources, Nebraska libraries continue to meet the needs of their public. There has been an marked increase in automation in libraries. Internet access increased over 407% from 14 libraries having Internet access in 1993-94 to 71 libraries having access in 1994-95. Seven additional libraries have automated for a total of 99 in this fiscal year coverage and 60 libraries were OCLC/NEBASE members.

This statistical profile of libraries in the State of Nebraska complies with the Federal and State Cooperative System for Public Library Data (FSCS). These statistics are reported on a national level by all fifty states.
